

Teachers Using Technology, March 2010

Mr. Dobos is a second grade teacher at McClellan Elementary School. He uses technology as often as possible in his classroom. The simplest being postings of PowerPoint presentations and word processing documents to Twitter and Delicious. Mr. Dobos believes that it is always helpful to add movement and motion or video into a presentation. He tries to show his students educational websites that he has bookmarked for them on Delicious.com for their use at home as well as school. Direct link to Delicious.com website is <http://delicious.com/mcclellangrade2>.

The websites that Mr. Dobos chooses helps his students outside the classroom as much as in it. Twitter is used as a communication tool for parents to see upcoming events and the night's homework. As a second grade teacher the major focus of Mr. Dobos technology teaching is showing the students the basic functions of a computer and its programs as well as teaching safety for online experiences. According to Mr. Dobos, "With the speed at which technology is growing, I am excited to continue using technology to assist my teaching."
